February concert by the famed Guarneri String Quartet Rescheduled to Saturday, June 6, 2009

Ensemble Music Society announces that the world-renowned Guarneri String Quartet will have an interruption in their planned "Farewell Tour" that reschedules their final Indiana concert appearance, originally set for February 21, 2009. John Dalley, the second violin in the quartet, will undergo medical treatments during late January and February for prostate cancer. Completing a remarkable 45 year career together, The Guarneri Quartet has rescheduled the concert as part of Ensemble Music's International Chamber Series for Saturday, June 6, 2009 at 7:30 PM in Lilly Theatre of the Christel DeHaan Fine Arts Center, University of Indianapolis, 1400 East Hanna Avenue, Indianapolis, Indiana.

Tickets that show the February date will be honored for the June 6th concert. Season subscribers unable to attend a concert may exchange their tickets for any other concert they choose that same season or turn in the ticket as a tax deductible contribution. Due to the high level of interest in this concert, we recommend subscribers wishing to exchange tickets for concerts they may miss so as to attend the Guarneri Quartet concert request that exchange prior to the concert date to guarantee availability. Anyone who purchased tickets not part of a subscription for the Guarneri Quartet and who is unable to attend the concert on the rescheduled date may request a full refund, exchange the ticket for any other concert on the 2008/2009 season, or return them for a tax deductible contribution to Ensemble Music.

Single tickets are still available. Prices are $30 for Adult and seniors, $10 for Students ages 19 to 25, and FREE for Students 18 and under. For additional concert and ticket information contact Ensemble Music at 317.254.8915 or visit our website www.ensemblemusic.org. Return, exchange, and new ticket orders may be mailed to Ensemble Music, P. O. Box 40188, Indianapolis, IN 46240.
